

Truman Tosses First Ball—A Wild One

Demand 30-Day Freeze On State's New Building Program For Auditor Check

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, April 19.—(AP)—Demand for a 30-day freeze on Ohio's $50,000,000 building program to permit investigation of complaints comes up for senate action today.

Four Democratic senators proposed the inquiry in a resolution Monday night requiring approval by both houses of the legislature to get it started. It would authorize State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson to hire architects and engineers to make the investigation.

The resolution was offered by Sen. Edwin F. Sawicki, Joseph W. Bartunek, William M. Boyd, all of Cleveland, and Nicholas P. Bernard of Youngstown. It said in part that: "During the past six months a steady stream of charges have been made publicly, setting forth that a considerable portion of said building and construction has been and is without compliance with architects' plans and specifications."

State Losing
"That arbitrary substitution of building materials of inferior quality have been and are made without financial adjustment in favor of the State of Ohio;

"That numerous mistakes and errors in construction have been and are being made on many of these building projects by builders and contractors for which the State of Ohio is unjustly being compelled to pay."

The state auditor would have authority to exempt work deemed satisfactory from the 30-day suspension.

Ferguson recently was authorized to hire several examiners to check the complaints recited in the resolution. The agreement was reached with Gov. Frank J. Lausche and the directors of public works, welfare, highways and the state architect. Money to pay the examiners would come from the highway and public works department rotary funds.

The proposed resolution makes no provision to pay the architects and engineers that would be hired.

Ferguson has been checking complaints that led to the firing last November of Architect Joseph A. Gattozzi of Cleveland Heights from a hospital construction project at Apple Creek institution for feeble minded.

Public Works Director George B. Sowers fired Gattozzi on grounds that he favored builders on the project. Gattozzi asserted orders by

Players To Give 'M'liss' Wednesday, Thursday Evenings

Reports from rehearsals of the Players club production, "M'liss," to be given in the High school auditorium at 8 Wednesday and Thursday nights, indicate that the season's first play will be a hit.

Proceeds from the play are to be donated to the Girl Scouts camp fund.

"M'liss" (My Western Miss) is an entirely new and up-to-date three-act version of the famous old story by Bret Harte.

The play has thrilled thousands of theatergoers and has been made into a moving picture on several different occasions with tremendous success.

With George Smith, a ne'er-do-well known as "Bummer," and his attractive daughter, M'liss, the story depicts his success in locating gold and the inevitable city slickers attempts to defraud him of same. Into this story are woven many colorful characters such as Bess Starlight, a dazzling actress who plays havoc with the heart of Yuba Bill, a comic cowboy; Clytie Moffitt, a sweet little "mountain rose," who is M'liss' rival for the hand of young Grey; and the extremely amusing Judge McSnagley.

Songs by the Mile Branch quartet will be heard between the acts.

PTA AT PROSPECT NAMES OFFICERS

The 1949-50 officers were selected by the Prospect Street school Parent-Teacher association Monday evening.

Mrs. Kenneth Schorrenberg was named president, succeeding Mrs. James Baxter, who was made council representative.

Mrs. Sherman Garlock was elected vice president.

Mrs. Harry Ellis and Mrs. William Meisner are secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Carl John Hansen of the Salvation Army discussed local activities and also described other army projects.

Three selections, "Old Gray Robe," "While Strolling Through The Park" and "Saine On Me" were offered by a quartet of Salem High school boys—Robert Hill, John Schmidt, Roland Horton and John Cosgrove.

Ben Bailey was the accompanist. The association has purchased a sound projector.

Members of fifth grade students, led by Mrs. Glenn Whitcomb, served refreshments.

Sowers would cause structural defects in the hospital. About 2500 inmates eventually will be housed there. Some 785 are there now.

Pass License Bill
The senate completed passage of a bill repealing requirements for fishermen to wear visible licenses.

The vote was 27-0. The measure now goes to the governor.

Approved 26-0 and sent to the house was a bill by Sen. Arthur Blake (D-Belmont) to tighten Ohio's mine safety laws.

The mine safety bill bears the endorsement of operators and the United Mine Workers, Blake told the senate. He asserted it would go far in preventing mine disasters. It would:

Make the state division of mines responsible for extinguishing fires in outcroppings of coal seams in abandoned pits;

Require sealing of abandoned vertical shafts with reinforced concrete.

Commissioners Defer Action On Conveyor

LISBON, April 19.—Columbiana county commissioners on Monday declined to go on record as favoring or opposing the proposed Ohio-river to Lakes conveyor when the matter was presented in the first official approach to the board.

John T. Cushing of Canton, representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and opponent of the proposal, submitted the issue to the commissioners with a request that the board go on record through the resolution to be submitted to the legislature, opposing the conveyor.

Cushing charged the conveyor is not a common carrier, and cited loss of tax revenue to Columbiana county from railroads due to loss of business if the conveyor system is allowed through the granting of the right of eminent domain by the legislature.

Guilty plea was entered by Harry Rose of Wellsville and William Hokin of Salem, both charged with larceny. Recusants for probation and bond of each set at $1,000 pending investigation of eligibility.

Joseph Daniels and James Austin, Cleveland Negroes, each entered pleas of not guilty to the burglary and larceny committed at the McNamee-McCort drug store in Salem, and also pleaded innocent to forcing open the safe in the store.

Bonds were set at $5,000 in each instance and the men were returned to the Mahoning county jail to await trial.

Ronald Lewis of Wellsville, entered a plea of not guilty to auto theft, and bond was set at $1,000 pending trial. Lewis Headley of Wellsville, also entered a plea of not guilty to an indictment charging auto theft and bond set at $3,000.

James Foster of East Liverpool, was held for trial under $5,000 and $3,000 bonds when he entered pleas of not guilty to auto theft and assault and battery. Elba Coulter of East Palestine, was held for trial under $2,000 bond, after he pleaded innocent to three counts of burglary and larceny.

Isaac Fitzwater of Kansas City, is held under $2,000 and $1,000 bonds for trial after he entered pleas of not guilty to burglary and assault and battery.

Arthur and Harris Shasteen, Hanover township, entered pleas of innocent to indictments charging auto theft and burglary, and bond of each was set at $1,000 on each count pending trial.

Eddie Shasteen, charged with receiving and concealing stolen property, entered a plea of not guilty and bond was set at $500 for her appearance for trial.

William Householder of Wellsville was held under a $1,000 bond for trial when he entered a plea of not guilty to receiving and concealing stolen property, and Albert Knight also of that village was held under $1,000 bond when he pleaded innocent to burglary and larceny.

SEES DEFEAT FOR BRICKER, CAIN CHANGE

Amendment to Housing Bill Won't Pass, Flanders Tells Newsmen

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) predicted defeat today for a move to give house and senate appropriations committees final say on proposed public housing and slum clearance projects.

He said an amendment by Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash.) to a long-range housing bill now before the senate would be "impractical," and added, "I don't think it will go through."

The amendment would require the housing administrator to get the approval of both appropriations committees before letting contracts for public housing or slum clearance projects.

The federal share of financing the public housing projects would run up to $308,000,000 annually over a 40-year period. For slum clearance, the bill would authorize $500,000,000 in grants and $1,000,000,000 in loans during the next five years.

The bill provides for building an average of 135,000 public housing units yearly, but the number could go as high as 250,000 or as low as 50,000 in any one year—depending on the supply of labor and building materials. The measure calls for 810,000 units in six years.

Flanders said an effort also may be made to "scale down" the maximum number that can be built in a year as a means of limiting the annual cost of the program, but he expressed doubt that such an amendment would be approved. The present cost is "reasonable," he said.

Girl, 7, Injured When Hit By Car

Seven-year-old Irene Scheuring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scheuring of 1184 E. State st. was injured at 3:10 p. m. Monday when she ran in front of a car and was knocked down on the street near her home.

The auto was driven by Clifford Barnes, 30, of Washingtonville. He told police the child ran directly into the path of his car and he had no chance to avoid hitting her.

She suffered a possible concussion, abrasions of the face, legs and forehead and contusions of the forehead. She was taken to the City hospital.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—Dr. Stephen S. Wise, 75, internationally known Jewish leader, has lapsed into a coma and the outlook is very grave. Lenox Hill hospital reported today.

Hospital authorities said the patient had shown no improvement since midnight.

Dr. Wise entered the hospital March 30 for an abdominal operation and has been critically ill since Saturday.

Store Burglars Here Among 18 Pleading 'Not Guilty'

LISBON, April 19.—Two guilty pleas were requested for probation and a plea of innocent were entered by defendants arraigned in common pleas court Monday on indictments returned by the recent grand jury.

Bond was set in each instance and defendants held pending criminal trials which will begin Monday. Judge Joel H. Sharp announced.

Guilty pleas were entered by Harry Rose of Wellsville and William Hokin of Salem, both charged with larceny. Recusants for probation and bond of each set at $1,000 pending investigation of eligibility.

Joseph Daniels and James Austin, Cleveland Negroes, each entered pleas of not guilty to the burglary and larceny committed at the McNamee-McCort drug store in Salem, and also pleaded innocent to forcing open the safe in the store.

ARCHBISHOP PUTS 'SILENCE' ORDER ON REV. FEENEY

BOSTON, April 19.—(AP)—Rev. Leonard Feeney, S. J., 52, noted Catholic educator and author, involved in the Boston college heresy dispute, today was "silenced" by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston.

The archbishop said the Jesuit priest "has lost the right to perform any priestly functions, including preaching and teaching of religion."

The action was taken, the archbishop said, "because of grave offenses against the general laws of the Catholic church." The decree did not specify "the grave offenses."

The move climaxed a week of controversy which began when three Boston college instructors were dismissed after accusing the Jesuit school of teaching heresy. The prelate supported the dismissal of the instructors, whose cause had been espoused by Fr. Feeney—himself a former B. C. teacher.

The archbishop also acted against the St. Benedict's center, a Cambridge intellectual group near Harvard college, headed by Fr. Feeney.

Forbids Attendance
He said the center "is henceforth without ecclesiastical approbation and attendance at it is strictly forbidden to Catholics," under penalty of forfeiting "the right to receive the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist."

Under the archbishop's edict, Fr. Feeney is forbidden to say mass, preach or administer sacraments of the Catholic church. The punishment is one of the most severe that can be imposed on a priest and is commonly referred to as being "silenced."

The priest said previously he supported the three instructors because he felt "very strongly" that their doctrine "is the true doctrine of the Roman Catholic church."

The instructors are James R. Walsh, philosophy teacher, Fakhri Maluf, assistant professor of philosophy, and Charles Ewaskio, assistant professor of physics.

The controversy revolves around the question whether persons outside the church can attain salvation. The instructors insist the church doctrine holds that non-Catholics cannot be saved, authoritative Catholic sources say they can.

Truman Signs ECA Authorization Bill

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—President Truman today signed the $5,580,000,000 European Recovery authorization bill.

Truman used eight pens in the signing, giving one to each of the seven witnesses and keeping one for Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who was unable to be present for the White House ceremony.

Present for the signing in Truman's Oval room-office were Secretary of State Acheson, chairman of the foreign relations committee; Chairman Kee (D-W. Va.) of the house foreign affairs committee; ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman, roving ECA Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Deputy Administrator William C. Foster and Howard K. Bruce.

The legislation makes $1,000,000,000 immediately available to the ECA from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

These funds will keep aid flowing to western Europe until congress votes additional cash.

Aside from the billion dollars, the bill provides no actual cash.

COUNCIL TO HEAR WATER BOARD REPORT

A report from the Ohio Water Resource board, compiled by its geologist, James W. Cummins, will be read to members of city council at the meeting tonight at city hall.

Cummins, who appeared at council's last session, went over the Salem potential water supplies, surface and underground, and filed a report with council. Chairman Fred Koehnrich of the water committee said the report would be considered by council tonight.

Meanwhile council is interviewing engineering firms in regard to handling the water supply project for the city. One more firm is to be heard before a decision is reached regarding the engineering.

Koehnrich said Service Director Frank K. Wilson has been authorized to employ a firm for the long range program.

COUNTY WON'T USE VOTING MACHINES YET

Election Board and County Commissioners Decide Against Proposal

The election board and county commissioners agreed Monday night in a joint session in East Liverpool to "postpone indefinitely" any action to install voting machines in Columbiana county's 121 voting places.

The action was taken at a meeting of the four-member Election board and the three commissioners at the election board's office in city hall. No explanation was given for the postponement, but the high cost of the machines always has been mentioned in connection with their consideration.

Two models were brought into Columbiana county a few months ago to allow voters a chance to examine them and cast trial ballots. They were on display at the election board office, then later at Lisbon and Salem.

At present, all county precincts use paper ballots. Several Ohio counties, particularly those with dense urban populations, have switched to machine voting in the last few years.

All members of both boards were present at last night's meeting.

Election board members are M. L. Clemmensen of Wellsville, chairman, Carl Stacey of Columbiana, Carey A. Houlette of Fairfield township and A. L. Turney of East Palestine. Commissioners are Kim Crawford, Clarence L. Robinson and John Smith.

French, British Papers Speculate Russian Actions

By CHARLES A. SMITH
LONDON, April 19.—(INS)—French and British newspapers continued to speculate today that the Soviets may end their blockade of Berlin in the near future.

(In Berlin itself, American sources cast cold water on the rumors that Russians may soon end their virtual siege.)

The London Daily Mail said that Soviet zone Germans have asked the Russian military government to end the blockade in order to "save the economic life of the Soviet zone."

All Paris newspapers this morning, with the single exception of the Communist organ L'Humanite, featured reports that the Russians are ready to lift their Iron Curtain cutting off the former German capital from the west

Decision For Philosophers

The Chinese Communists want a final showdown. They are demanding the immediate surrender of remaining Nationalist troops. Otherwise, they threaten, the Nationalist troops will be wiped out.

It is probable they will be wiped out anyway. If they surrender, the wiping out will take place one way. If they continue to fight, the wiping out will take place another way. And in neither case is there likely to be a showdown, in the sense that anything will be settled once and for all.

China has been the despair of many human beings who have wanted showdowns, including Americans. There are so many Chinese living in such a vast territory that showdowns are out of the question. The situation defies the modern assumption that all great questions can be settled one way or another—but settled in either event.

In the first place, China is not a nation but an area. Its people are not nationally organized. They defy organization on a national scale, and there is no more reason to believe that the new Communist masters who have gained the whip hand will have any more success in holding it than any of the old masters who have held it.

All decisions and all assumptions about Chinese affairs must be made by philosophers—philosophers being, in this case, men honest enough to admit to themselves that all decisions and assumptions about Chinese affairs are subject to change without notice.

War Games

A routine announcement that United States troops in Germany are engaged in war games is like a flashback to the years before World War I and II.

There are the same vague phrases about "normal military training" and "mythical enemies." And behind the vague phrases are the same hard realities—the positive identity of the mythical enemy and the fact that the training is anything but ordinary. It has two purposes. One is to familiarize troops with the weapons they would use in event of war. The other is to familiarize the mythical enemy and other interested parties with the military power in existence in the event war occurs.

In theory, war games avert war. In practice, they amount to recognition of the imminent possibility of war. Europeans have learned by experience to think of the war in the latter way. It will be surprising if the net results of the war games now in progress in Germany is not an increase in Europe's sense of insecurity. Whenever one great power flexes its muscles for the benefit of another great power, it isn't for fun.

Old Folks At Home

Back home for the first long recess since congress convened last January, U. S. representatives and senators will be taking the pulse of their communities. Anyway, that's what the experts in Washington predict they'll be doing.

The experts also predict that the congressmen will be mobbed by spokesmen for various pressure groups, principally labor unions and school teachers, in behalf of repealing the Taft-Hartley Act and passing a bill to give federal aid to education. It's a pretty grim prospect for the congressmen—taking pulses between painful interludes of having their pulses taken. No one should be alarmed, therefore, if the poor fellows decide to sidestep some of the grief by putting on false whiskers. For the next few days look closely at all men with whiskers. Give the whiskers a tug and tell the fellow behind them what you think about taxes aid for China, the new farm plan and the Taft-Hartley Act. If he talks back he isn't your congressman—just a fellow with whiskers.

Hidden Scars

When LST 711 made port at Honolulu the other day, with the remains of 120 Americans missing in action since 1943, the government's last general search for war dead in the South Pacific ended.

LST 711 had covered more than 35,000 miles among the scattered islands whose names meant so much to Americans only a few years ago—Samoa, Phoenix, the New Hebrides, Solomon. It had called at ports in Tasmania, Australia and New Zealand on its morbid mission. One member of its search crew reported that the scars of war are obliterated now. The jungle has covered them. The natives remember only dimly the men who came from afar to fight for possession of places that no one seems to want any more.

The abandoned cluster of military effort is rusted away. The landing strips are grown over with vegetation and in a few more years the South Pacific will have no tangible reminders of World War II at all. It will have been forgotten entirely. Only the scars on the hearts of those who lost loved ones will remain—hidden, as always, but never forgotten.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, April 20
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

THE auguries for this day, may be read as more than customarily perilous to all established business, plans, prospects and ambitions, recently put in jeopardy by rash, ungoverned and erratic impulses or wild ideas.

It may be difficult to clear the atmosphere from the damage, crash and loss through strange tactics, since judgment is obscure and hostile to possible assistance from those who might be available for advice. The cost may be great in financial, influential and family assets and compromise, only to be restored by tact, humility.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are urged to draw upon their finer instincts, stability of character and solid abilities, in order to seek to "mend broken fences," incident to recent rampages in which erratic, irrational and temperamental behavior may have put in jeopardy very promising and soundly established foundations for a productive, progressive, secure and lasting fair fortune.

While the mentality may not have a clear view of complicated situations, or sound perspective on a warped or bungled state of affairs, yet a friendly, amiable and candid approach to those possibly cooperative in their sympathetic understanding, may assist to recoup the damage and redeem ravaged resources.

A child born on this day may be prone to rash, involved, and complicated judgment, impelling danger and loss. It may need kindly direction in making friends and maintaining gracious support from influential sources.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By WALTER KIERMAN

Baseball is here and for the next few months we will be more concerned with men left on bases than Atlantic bases.

Mr. Truman was grateful for the season pass given him by the Senators baseball club. It's the first nice thing he's gotten from any senators since January.

In fact I understand when the President was told "there's a group of senators here to see you," he said "if Taft is with them tell them I'm not home."

But DiMaggio's tough luck darkens the baseball picture—Achilles heel never worried the Greeks half as much as DiMaggio's heel troubles the Yankees.

Although the way some managers play to him, Joe could sit in a chair at the plate, waft a bat and still draw a base on four outside and right.

Anyway until we know definitely about Joe's heel any other beats will get little of our attention.

NEW STEPS TO
ARE FORGED

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
DETROIT, April 19 — New steps toward forging chemical bullets to kill cancer were reported today to the American Association for Cancer Research.

The new things are half a dozen chemicals that destroy parts of tumors and slow down cancer growth in mice and other animals. But they are also poisonous and dangerous. It is not yet known whether they will be of value for human use.

The fact that they work a little bit against cancer is hopeful. Experimenting with them, man-made bullets may be fashioned which can be injected to seek out and kill cancers without seriously harming the human host.

The new chemicals were described in a series of reports by scientific teams at the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md.

The chemicals were turned up in a search which so far has tested 1,000 different chemicals against cancer. These belonged to various families of chemicals. Out of each 100 tests, only four or five have shown any effect.

Three of the newer ones come from a plant, the May apple or Mandrake root. A crude extract, podophyllin, from this plant has affected several kinds of cancer transplanted into mice. The new trio are purified chemicals isolated from this crude stuff.

They are at least as effective against the mouse cancers, but are less toxic. Each shows slight differences.

Two curious things turned up in these tests. One is that it makes a difference how the atoms are arranged in the chemicals. They are made of exactly the same things.

If the atoms are arranged in a certain way, the chemical works against the cancer, although only partially and temporarily. But if the atoms are spaced slightly differently, it doesn't work.

The other finding is that the atomic arrangement that works seems to do it by interfering in some unknown way with other chemicals, the enzymes systems, inside the cancer cells.

So far these chemicals and the others are only clues. The job is to find out how and why they work. Then better ones can be made.

Fairmount Home Charge
Filed In Stark Court

CANTON, April 19 — Two affidavits, charging actions in a way to cause delinquency in a minor, today were filed in Stark county juvenile court against a subordinate official at the Fairmount Children's home.

Court officials said the affidavits were filed by the mother and sister of two boys living at the home.

The home is owned by Stark and Columbiana counties.

B. F. Stanton of Alliance, one of the five orphanage trustees said the board was investigating the charges. A meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at the home.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Care of Epileptic Patient

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

With modern treatment, most epileptic patients can lead lives that are happy and normal in most respects. The object of treatment is to keep the patient free from attacks, and today it succeeds so well that many can avoid them for periods of months or even years.

This disorder is characterized by attacks in which there is loss of consciousness. When, in addition, there are convulsions with spasms and jerking of the muscles, the disease is known as grand mal epilepsy. If there is only loss of consciousness for a few seconds from time to time, the term petit mal is used.

Drugs Used
Among some of the drugs used for controlling the grand mal attacks are phenobarbital, dilantin sodium, and mesantoin. The preparations may be given alone or in combination. Of course, treatment with these drugs must be carried out under the direction of the physician who will decide upon the type of drug or drugs to be used and the exact dose. If the attacks occur often when the drugs are administered, it indicates that the treatment is not adequate.

Along with these drugs, epileptic patients also need the sympathetic help of their doctor in solving the problems which cause them concern. Chief among these, according to Dr. Joseph Fetterman, is the decision as to whether or not they should marry.

He feels that in the great majority of cases there is no reason to advise a person with epilepsy not to marry. However, if the epilepsy has caused some mental disturbance, marriage would appear inadvisable. Apparently, the average epileptic can live a fairly happy married life. The person whom the epileptic marries should, of course, be aware of the nature of the disease so that he or she may cooperate in helping to carry out the proper treatment.

Free From Epilepsy
The epileptic also is concerned about whether or not he should have children. If he is normal, other than for the epilepsy, and the mate is normal and free from epilepsy, apparently having children is not inadvisable. Statistics would seem to show that children of parents, one of whom is epileptic, do not have this disease more often than children of two normal parents.

Another question of concern to the epileptic is whether or not he should drive an automobile. In general, this cannot be allowed, since there is the possibility that an attack might occur while driving. Such a seizure would not only endanger the life of the patient but also that of pedestrians and other drivers.

In most cases of epilepsy, the disease does not cause any mental deterioration, and patients with the disorder need not worry about this. The important thing is for the epileptic to be under the care of the physician continually, because, with proper use of the available drugs, the attacks may be kept under control or entirely eliminated.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
M. H.: My teen-age daughter has very crooked teeth and her chin recedes. Is there anything which can be done to firm her chin?

Answer: In this case, prompt treatment of the crooked teeth is advisable. A dentist should be consulted at once.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

BAND PLANS '49 SEASON

Local Concerts, Legion Competition Included In Activities

Salem's Quaker City band has completed its schedule of concerts and public appearances for the year. To properly blend the individual talents of each musician in the band Director George Chappell announces plans to secure the largest attendance at regular Thursday evening practice sessions. He said that in order for the band to develop properly for the many appearances this year, rehearsals would continue to be stressed.

Annual Spring Carnival
On May 19, 20 and 21 the band will make its first appearance of the season in the annual American Legion Spring Carnival. The band will march in the Memorial day parade May 30.

Chappell said a drill instructor will direct drill sessions for the band on May 8 and 22 to prepare the band for local, district, state and national parade ground performances. Other drill periods will be held June 12 and 26.

Two Park Concerts
Centennial park will be the scene of two band concerts this summer, one on June 23 and the other July 28. "Light" works will be presented at these programs. Stirring marches and familiar classical works will also be heard.

On July 10 the band will travel to East Liverpool for the Legion's 10th district meeting and parade with a picnic-outing planned following the close of the meeting.

Columbus will be the scene of the state convention where the Salem band will defend its championship in the parade competition, won during parade judging last year. The state meeting has been set for Aug. 6 and 7.

Board members expressed hopes that the band may make the trip to Philadelphia and the national American Legion competitions which will be held there Aug. 27-31. Sources to finance the trip for the full band are still being sought.

Two Hospital Performances
On the City hospital lawn the band will set up for a concert on Aug. 21 with the Central Clinic performance set for Sept. 11. The hospital concerts will be annual affairs following the success of the one given at the dedication of the City hospital wing last summer.

The band also will appear in a short program during the Aug. 11 and 12 Legion Fall Festival.

The Columbiana County High School band contest, set for Oct. 11 in Reilly field and the Halloween parade on Oct. 31 will conclude the season for the organization.

See Improvement In Employment Picture

COLUMBUS, April 19 — (INS)—Although Ohio jobseekers outnumbered the February figures by 22 percent, the number of employees placed has hiked 16 percent in March.

BUC Administrator Frank J. Collopy said 15,500 persons found jobs in March through the Ohio bureau and reversed the five-month downward trend. A four percent increase in the number of jobs still listed at the end of the month added another optimistic note.

A large number of domestic workers were placed. The manufacturing industry absorbed 4,319 workers while professional and managerial placements dropped ten percent from the February mark.

FAIRFIELD

Special services were held Easter Sunday at the East Fairfield Methodist church.

These services were planned as a climax to the extensive building program undertaken by the church in October, 1947.

The young people had charge of the Sunday school program.

The special offering totaled $1,940, which more than cleared the $18,000 indebtedness.

The new church addition will be dedicated June 5.

Rev. C. E. Richardson of Rogers is pastor of the church. Miss Evelyn Albright is Sunday school superintendent.

New Plane Carries Record Load

The XC-99, experimental transport version of the B-36 superbomber, takes off at Fort Worth, Tex., carrying a 100,000-pound load—the heaviest believed ever lifted by an airplane. The double-decked, six-engined transport was loaded with zinc alloy bars, used in aircraft tooling. The 30,000 cubic foot interior of the fuselage was only partially filled with the heavy metal bars. The plane will be delivered to the Air Force later this year, after further tests.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Just keep everything free of control, the old economists used to say, and everything will work out dandy.

They wanted no government interference with people or business or commerce. "Anarchy, plus a constable," Carlyle called it.

But out of this philosophy grew "the American free enterprise system." Actually, it's hardly ever been completely free.

Almost from the start of the republic, government tariffs blocked foreign competition with American-made goods here.

But by bit through the years the government kept sticking its nose under the tent a little more.

Some landmarks were the creation of the Interstate Commerce commission and the Sherman anti-trust act to control monopolies, and in 1913 the income tax started.

Government controls, help, regulation and interference piled up during the disaster of the depression in the 1930's. All were signs of the increasing complexity of American life.

AND NOW THE latest evidence of how far we've moved from a truly free enterprise system is the new farm program which Agriculture Secretary Brannan has laid in congress' lap.

Congress probably won't pass it into law this session. But already there is plenty of argument about it on Capitol Hill. There'll be more. Briefly, if it became law, this would be its purpose:

1.—To make sure farmers had a fair income, the government would pay them when their prices went down, or else buy up their crops.

2.—At the same time this, in part, would mean lower prices for the public — although the money paid the farmer would be out of the public's taxes.

And all of this, since the government would be helping the farmers with public money, would mean a strong government hand in what farmers grow or could grow.

Some critics of the idea consider all this a very bold step, too far-reaching. Others look on it as just a logical step that's needed to keep farmers from a crack-up.

The underlying idea—helping the farmers—isn't new. Under the law we have right now, the government steps in on a number of crops and buys them up to help farmers when prices fall below a certain level.

For example, the government buys eggs if they go below a price fixed by the government. Potatoes, too.

Why? Just to keep a surplus off the market. With the surplus gone, prices stay up. This means that, for the benefit of the farmer, the public pays higher prices. And yet, it's the public's tax money which is being used to do all that.

If the new program became law the government would, more or less, do the same thing in some kinds of food, like non-perishable corn, wheat and so on.

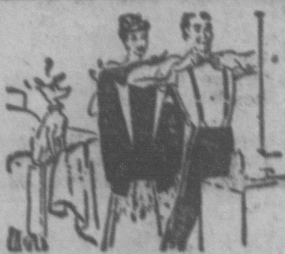

BUT IT WOULD DO something new and different on perishable foods like meat, milk, eggs, poultry and fruits.

In their case—if their prices dropped below a figure fixed by the government—the government wouldn't step in and take them off the market to keep prices up. It would do this:

Take the case of eggs. The government might decide the average price of them should be 45 cents a dozen, so the farmer could have fair income off them.

Suppose they dropped to 25 cents a dozen because so many were on the market. The government would say, "Good, let 'em drop, so the general public can get the benefit of lower prices."

But, the government would pay the farmers 20 cents, or the difference between the 25-cent market price and the 45-cent price the government thought was fair.

You, buying the eggs at 25 cents a dozen, would benefit by the lower price on eggs. But it would be your tax money the government would use to pay the farmer that 20 cents. — Who'd win on that deal? No one knows now. Secretary Brannan's experts are busy now trying to figure out how much the program would cost.

One thing is clear from the present and proposed help for the farmers: To survive in the free enterprise system they need government help, and when that happens the system isn't free of control.

Auld Lang Syne Party Held By El Furno Club

Former members were guests when the El Furno club, Electric Furnace Co. office women, held an Auld Lang Syne party Monday evening in the blue room of the Metager hotel.

Small sachet favor hats marked each place when the guests were seated. Lighted by tall yellow tapers in crystal, colorful pots of tulips brought springtime to the table.

Miss Janet Robinson, president of the El Furno club, welcomed the guests and served as mistress of ceremonies.

Entertainment during the evening was provided by a trio composed of Alice Kyle, Susanne Werner and Nancy Ring. Vera Robinson accompanied them at the piano. Miss Dana White presented a song and dance number.

Mrs. Merrill Bates and Miss Eleanor Bates played for group singing prior to the dinner. W. L. Ferguson, personnel manager at the plant, led the women on a tour of the remodeling buildings, pointing out improvements recently completed.

The tulips, which were used on the tables, were later given as prizes. They were awarded Miss Patricia Gaughan, Mrs. Robert L. Ward and Mrs. Carroll Green.

Miss Robinson headed the planning committee assisted by the following:

committees: Decorations, Miss Ellen Knauf, Miss Margie Hum, Miss Eleanor Bates, Miss Elizabeth Leonard and Mrs. Robert Stuffer; entertainment, Miss Lera Slagle, Miss Nancy Harah and Miss Betty Roessler; house and finance, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Nora Herron and Miss Slagle; invitation, Miss Lorna Helmick, Miss Gaughan, and Mrs. Robert Stahl.

Guests were Jerry Van Hovel, Philip Hunter, Ben Bailey, Robert Zimmerman, Judy Jackson, Janet Hertel, Mary Bebe and Nancy Bailey, of Salem, and Miss Lucy Huston, sister of the host, who is a student at Ohio State university. She returned to Columbus Sunday.

The group attended the 8 o'clock service at the Christian church.

Miss Jean Lanpher of Lakewood spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoudt of N. Broadway and returned home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Lanpher, who were here for the Easter weekend.

Miss Haldi Honored With Gift Shower

Miss Dorothy Haldi, who will become the bride of J. Carter Murphy of Fort Worth, Tex., May 1, was honored at a charmingly-appointed party Monday evening given by her cousin, Miss Carolyn Butcher at her home, Leetonia rd.

Miss Haldi was showered with gifts.

Miss Butcher, who is a student at Heidelberg college, Tiffin, will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding, which will be solemnized in the Presbyterian church.

Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Carl McQuiklin and Miss Louise Hanna.

Yellow and green predominated in the beautiful appointments on the buffet table from which lunch was served to 18 guests.

Mrs. Mabel Thomas and son, Richard, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Florence Spencer, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carey Buckman, N. Ellsworth ave. Mrs. Spencer has been ill since January.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulge" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Ohio druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you expend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Over a quarter million bottles of this preparation, called Renel Concentrate have been sold in Ohio in the past 1½ years. You can get a four-ounce bottle of Renel from any Ohio druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

CHILD STAR OF '32 NOW WIFE, MOTHER---AND 21!

8—Four years a film star.

16—Returns from "retirement."

17—Shirley becomes unusually charming housewife.

20—Linda Susan is one year old.

FOR MOST YOUNG PEOPLE, their 21st birthday marks the threshold of an adult life, with a career and a family definitely a part of the future. Not so with Shirley Temple, whose 21st birthday, on April 23, finds those things long since achieved. Shirley, for instance, became a full-fledged movie star when she was 4, the screen boxoffice champion at 5 and an Academy Award winner at 8. Nor is that all. She married John Agar when she was 17 and became a mother at 19. And she's still starring in pictures. She "retired" from screen during adolescence, from 11 to 16.

SEE SIGNS OF LEGISLATION ON TAXES AS OHIO ASSEMBLY BUCKS LAUSCHE IDEA

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, April 19—(AP)—Signs of an approaching showdown on Gov. Frank J. Lausche's no-new-tax program popped up in the legislature this week like dandelions on the front lawn.

For the second time in as many weeks the senate education committee reported out whopping school appropriation increase bills that embarrassed the administration.

The last one calls for an extra $27,500,000 primarily to give teachers $25 a month pay raises for two years. There's no provision for it in Lausche's record-high $650,000,000 biennial budget.

The other asks $31,500,000 to build and repair schools and to buy new buses. That's about half the entire state surplus on which several other interests look with covetous eyes. Lausche has tagged the surplus for capital improvements.

Sep. Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga), senate Democratic leader, has the school improvements bill sent to the finance committee. The same fate awaits the pay increase measure unless it's held in the Democratic-dominated rules committee.

Sen. Emmett R. Guthrie (D-Columbus), education committee chairman and co-sponsor of the pay bill, admitted he had been asked to sit on the measure or send it to finance committee. He was one of the six voting to recommend it for passage.

Three of them were Democrats. Before voting they held what probably is the smallest caucus this session. The record goes to James A. Reynolds of Cleveland, who in 1921 was the only Democrat in the senate. When Republicans caucused he would gravely announce a Democratic caucus simultaneously in a telephone booth.

Guthrie also is sponsor of a 3 per cent gross sales tax bill he says will yield some $60,000,000 a year more than the present retail sales tax. His insistence that it will do so without new taxes is challenged in administration quarters.

No sooner had Guthrie introduced his gross sales tax measure than the Ohio Education association endorsed it. The timing was pat. So was Guthrie's indication that the extra revenue would provide the additional money asked by schools, local governments and state employees for pay boosts.

The governor declines comment on the gross sales tax bill or the education committee action. He is pledged to no new or increased taxes.

Lausche has made it clear he wants expenditures limited to anticipated revenues. More expenses than this would mean higher taxes. The governor is known to feel that lower levies would be more desirable these days.

Claims Disputed
Claims that a flat three per cent tax paid by merchants on gross sales would not be a new tax in any way are hard to substantiate. Guthrie's bill would impose levies on numerous items now exempt under the retail sales tax. The gross tax, passed on to consumers, would start on sales of 17 cents or more instead of 41 cents as now.

If that isn't actually a new tax, it certainly would seem to be at least partial reimposition of a levy removed in waning days of the Republican Herbert administration. The governor may have to declare himself on that proposition before too long.

The fact that the school lobby was able to pry the two appropriation bills out of the education committee in the face of senate leadership opposition attests to its potency. The leadership wants the school bills considered along with the biennial budget. That may be some time away.

Sen. Clingan Jackson (D-Mahoning), senate finance committee chairman and member of the education committee, has declared against budget hearings concurrent with the house finance committee. They had been proposed to save time and thus shorten the legislative session.

It may be several weeks before the house finance committee completes hearings and representatives send the budget to the senate.

Meanwhile, the pressure mounts. Money seems to be the root of all the trouble.

'Dead' 10 Minutes Mullins Recruits Men For Selling

In what is described as one of the most intensive manpower recruiting campaigns in home appliance history, Mullins Manufacturing Corp. early next month will launch a nationwide drive to help Youngstown Kitchen dealers find qualified retail salesmen.

Announcement of the campaign was made today by Charles A. Morrow, Mullins' vice president in charge of merchandising.

"We believe," said Morrow, "that there is no slowdown in the home equipment business that can't be reversed by putting more people to work at old-fashioned consumer selling. Thousands of our trained dealers already have proved the value of 'asking for an order' and using the sales methods that we have developed."

The recruiting drive, he said, is designed to attract top retail sales talent in every community. Co-operating with Mullins in the program are its 64 Youngstown Kitchen distributors throughout the country and many key dealers. They will supplement "Men Wanted" advertisements in daily newspapers in their territories. Trade publications also will carry the ad.

Urging the interested reader "to take this ad over with your wife or sweetheart tonight," the Saturday Evening Post advertisement of May 7 will describe the Youngstown Kitchen merchandising business as an industry that will bring "profitable employment to thousands of outstanding men."

The ad states that men who qualify will be connected with certified Youngstown dealers "probably in your home town." They will receive sales training, sales tools and the backing of advertising that produces live prospects.

Men who are interested in the proposition are asked to write to the company, telling about themselves and enclosing a snapshot.

Morrow said the mechanics for handling inquiries resulting from the advertisement have been worked out so that all applicants will be given careful consideration.

Preliminary screening will be done at the factory. Then, with co-operation of the company's 64 distributors throughout the country, the remaining applicants will receive interviews with distributor men.

Prof. Toynbee Holds Hope For World, Sees No Warring

By INEZ ROBB
NEW YORK, April 19—(INS)—Between Communism and Virus X, things are so tough all over that any least ray of hope in this naughty world is like a gasoline beacon set on a hill.

Most of the world's comic thinkers are so wrapped in pessimism it hardly seems worth while to go out in the kitchen to start the next meal.

So it is mighty encouraging to the likes of me to learn that Prof. Arnold Toynbee, a comic thinker and historian of prodigious capacity, believes we are a very far piece from a third world war.

(Anyone in the audience who does not know Prof. Toynbee, please keep his hand down and conceal his painful ignorance. The professor, the Einstein of history, is author of "A Study of History," a monumental work which ought to be compulsory reading. He is to our generation what Gibbon, Carlyle and MacAulay were to earlier ages.)

Toynbee, a historian trained to take the long view, has told a small luncheon gathering that such measures as the Atlantic pact may win the cold war without recourse to a shooting war.

The good professor believes that Russia is going to be sand in our shoes, crumb in our bed and a burr under the saddle for a long time. But he believes this irritant may be just what we citizens of the western world need to make us improve ourselves and our world in general.

Illustrates With Tale
To illustrate better the position of the Western peoples and of Russia in this fidgety world, Prof. Toynbee told a homely story of North Sea fishermen in his native England.

The fishing trawlers, which go out for weeks at a time, are equipped with tanks in which the fish are dumped to keep them alive until the boats get back to shore. Even so, the fish were flabby and stale. Only one fishing captain ever seemed able to return with his tanks filled with fresh, frisky fish, lively as the moment they were pulled from the sea and dumped into the tanks.

Like a woman with a top culinary secret, the captain guarded his method well until one day he finally told a friend that the clue to his success was simple. For every thousand live herrings he put into his tanks, the captain put in one big, bodacious catfish.

Naturally, the captain said, the catfish ate one or two herrings on the way home. But he kept the herrings moving at a lively clip, with the result that the herrings reached shore in top condition, as opposed to the limp slugs that assailed other trawlers.

"Now I would put it to you that Communism is the catfish of the Western herring pond," Prof. Toynbee said. "And that, if we play our cards rightly and have the patience to play them wisely and sensibly, the service that Communism may do us is to make us do very good things in our own world we might not have been so quick to do, might never have done at all by ourselves, if the Communists hadn't been there to act the catfish and keep us lively and on the move."

The professor is obviously saying "the fish gotta swim, birds gotta fly" and we people in the Western world gotta move fast and lively to keep ahead of the Russian catfish.

But by our very efforts to move faster than the catfish, we will create a better world for ourselves and those who want a democratic life—which is, after all, the only way in which we shall save ourselves in the long run.

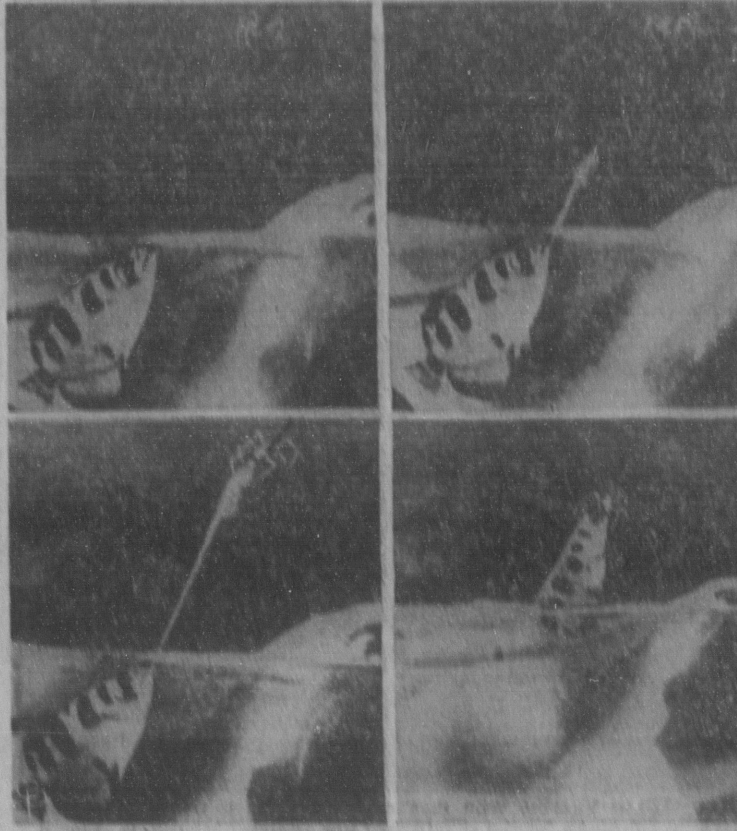

Toynbee, a slight man with white hair and a sly sense of humor, has looked back as far as history goes. He knows what made history tick in the past. So when he looks ahead and sees a light, I feel better about the whole thing.

And the professor does see a light. He told the luncheon gathering that the cold war is with us for a long time. Then he added:

"But I believe we can be of good hope because I believe that if we take the opportunity of the cold war to be inspired by it, to set our own house in order, to improve our own conditions in the Western world, the future lies in our hands and we shall create such a social and spiritual climate in the world that in the end it will be a rather undramatic and gradual way, affect the Russian one-sixth of the world, and make one world, not in our lifetime but in the lifetime perhaps of our children and our grandchildren."

In short, we may convert the catfish.

THE SPIDER MEETS HIS WATERLOO

REVERSING THE STORY of the spider and the fly, the archer fish captures spiders by first shooting them with drops of water. These photos, taken at the New York Zoological Society, show the curious fish with the "dead-eye" aim in action. The archer fish sights a suspended spider (top, left). A spurt of water ejected from the fish's mouth starts towards its prey (right). A bullseye is scored (bottom, left). The archer fish leaps out of the water (right) and snaps up the spider. Woman Gives Birth Despite Shot Wound

DALLAS, April 19—A 19-year-old mother who gave birth to a child after she had been shot through the head was in "excellent" condition at a hospital here today.

Mrs. Addie Hudson has every chance of recovering, her physician said. "I'll be very surprised if she doesn't make it—but she may be blind."

Mrs. Hudson was shot Friday. On Sunday she gave birth, a month prematurely, to a four-pound daughter.

City Policeman J. W. Gallahan said "Mrs. Hudson and her husband lived in a room at the home of a relative. I was called there Friday. I found Mrs. Hudson on a bed, shot through the head. A .32 rifle was nearby."

The physician considered it an extremely rare case. Rushed to the hospital, Mrs. Hudson never lost consciousness.

"The bullet," said the doctor, "went in to the right of the right eye, traveled through the brain and emerged in front of the left ear. The path of the bullet was through the frontal lobe of the brain, a part which regulates some of the thought processes. I am afraid that it must have struck the optic nerve, for at the moment Mrs. Hudson is completely blind."

Today, M. K. Tucker and C. V. Sanders of the police homicide squad division visited Mrs. Hudson.

"We attempted to talk with her," said Tucker, "but she was in quite a bit of pain and we got little information. We are continuing our investigation in this case."

Will Switch Time

MARSHALL, April 19 — Last-minute legislation has added Marshall, Alliance and Wellsville to the list of Ohio cities that will adopt Daylight Saving time Sunday. City councils in the three yesterday approved the time switch. Canton's city fathers, however, refused to take a stand on the issue.

RICHBERG VOICES FEPC OBJECTIONS

COLUMBUS, April 19 — (AP)—The senate labor committee today asked Donald R. Richberg of NRA fame to tell why he opposed compulsory anti-discrimination laws for industry.

The committee is conducting hearings on the house-approved FEPC bill endorsed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, union labor, churches and racial groups.

The measure proposes fair employment practices laws for Ohio enforced through a commission and the courts.

Richberg's appearance is sponsored by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber, manufacturers and some church organizations oppose the FEPC bill.

Richberg told newsmen Monday he had no objection to an educational FEPC program. He had this to say of a compulsory statute:

"You will not have any business management left. There is nothing to stop it from being extended to sex and age."

"The government is going to decide who is qualified for a job and you will break down what would otherwise be a harmonious working group."

"If the government is going to step in and tell you how to operate, it may be a good thing for labor today, but it may ruin labor tomorrow."

"I have no objection to an educational law. I don't know of anywhere that they enforce the law. In New York they had 610 cases up to last year and one case in court. That indicates there is no need for the law, or it is not being enforced."

Asked about Communist endorsement of FEPC, Richberg said:

"The FEPC is most unfortunately Communist, because it is aimed at the destruction of private management. The compulsory arbitration of strikes is mild in comparison with compulsory FEPC."

Richberg, an original New Deal "brain trust," was co-author of the old National Recovery Act. He later was chairman of the NRA board. He is co-author of the Railroad Labor act and now is a labor union attorney in Washington.

Ybarbo Family Reunited

Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo, who was released from a five-year prison term in Germany for the shooting of her soldier-husband, is greeted by her son, Jimmy, 6, as she arrived home in New Bedford, Mass. Mrs. Ybarbo was originally given a 30-year sentence for the shooting of Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliad, Tex., during a party in their occupation some home. The sentence was reduced by a board of review and she was later freed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

Company Says It's Tallulah's Fault

NEW YORK, April 19 — (AP)—A company that makes shampoo says it's actress Tallulah Bankhead's own fault if the public connects her name with tubes of its product.

Miss Bankhead has started a $1-000,000 damage suit over a Tallulah shampoo radio advertising jingle which calls a tube of shampoo "Tallulah."

Her lawyer says the jingle uses her name in an "offensive and humiliating" manner.

The makers of Prell, the Procter and Gamble Soap Company, said through their lawyers yesterday that it just isn't so.

They said Miss Bankhead, by starting the suit and by later press interviews, "has sought to identify herself in the public mind with Tallulah the tube."

Answering her State Supreme court suit, the company said that "if Tallulah the tube is identified as the plaintiff in the public mind, such identification has resulted from plaintiff's own conduct."

Here's the way the singing commercial goes:

"I'm Tallulah the tube of Prell, and I've got a little something to sell."

"Your hair can be radiant, oh, so easy."

"All you've got to do is to take me home and squeeze me."

SAYS NEW TAX IDEA WOULD COST MORE

COLUMBUS, April 19 — (AP)—Ohioans would pay $60,000,000 more in annual taxes under a sales tax bill now before the state senate, says an Ohio Chamber of Commerce executive.

Herschel C. Atkinson, executive vice president of the Chamber, said in a statement yesterday that while the bill is "represented as being a simply a change in the form of the present Ohio retail sales tax, (it) would impose new taxes well exceeding $60,000,000 annually."

The bill sponsored by Sen. Emmett R. Guthrie (D-Coshocton), would eliminate sales tax stamps.

The extra revenue, Atkinson said, would come from additional taxes on such things as electricity, telephones, water, cigarettes, liquor, livestock and farm machinery.

The law would subject charitable institutions to taxes on their purchases for the first time in Ohio, Atkinson declared.

Protests Filed Over Gas Prices

WASHINGTON, April 19 — (UP)—The American Automobile association intends to ask individual oil companies why gasoline prices have gone up and not down.

The association in a sharp letter to the American Petroleum Institute asked why 33,000,000 motorists had to pay high gasoline prices.

The institute said in reply that it had to be "deaf, dumb and blind" about prices because of the anti-trust laws. It suggested the AAA ask the oil companies for an answer.

The association will do just that, Russell E. Singer, executive vice president of the AAA, told newsmen. He said his organization will ask each individual company why the price of all petroleum products except gasoline has dropped this spring.

In letters to go out next week, Singer said, the AAA will argue that recent gasoline price increases come at a time when gasoline stocks are at an all-time high for this time of year.

It will tell the oil companies, he said, that the crude oil supply, domestic and imported, is at such a high level that several states have ordered cut-backs in production.

Singer said that with tongue in cheek, the AAA will concede the outback was made in the name of "conservation," but that "it is natural that some will see in an effort to maintain the price of crude oil at present levels."

Profits of the oil industry are high, the AAA said, "a factor which naturally enters into public reaction to higher prices."

OBITUARY

SYLVANUS SEIDNER

NEW SPRINGFIELD, April 19 — Sylvanus Seidner, 77, died of complications Monday at Youngstown Southside hospital. He had been in the hospital 10 days.

Born May 11, 1871 in Springfield township, he was the son of Tobias and Barbara Goldner Seidner. He had been a farmer all his life, but was retired. A member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church, he was married Dec. 13, 1895 to Carrie E. Heck, who survives.

A son Ralph of New Springfield and two grandchildren also survive.

Funeral service will be held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday at the Fry funeral home, Columbiana, in charge of Rev. C. B. A. Stacey of the Emmanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be in the local cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

East Liverpool Solons Fail To Support Conveyor

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 19 — Illness of two city councilmen Monday night literally meant the death of a resolution in which the City of East Liverpool would have laid out the welcome mat for the proposed Ohio River-Lake Erie conveyor belt.

Absence of the two, who supported the bill at two previous meetings, allowed it to die, 3-2, when it came up for final enactment on third reading last night.

Two railroad union representatives, including John T. Cushing of Canton, vice chairman of the Ohio State legislative board of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, urged rejection of the resolution.

He argued that Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc., the belt company, was trying to sell council and the legislature "a pig in a poke." Nothing in the enabling legislation before the legislature or the company's incorporation papers promise that the Ohio river terminal will be located at East Liverpool, he said.

The house passed and sent to the senate a bill to permit state transfer to Mansfield of a small piece of land there near the intersections of Routes 39 and 42. The vote was 103-0.

It completed passage of a senate-approved bill to increase township trustees fees for line fence dispute cases. They would get $5 a day to the following limits: $350 for townships with budgets of less than $10,000; $437.50 to $30,000; $525 to $30,000 and $612.50 over $30,000.

Flays Federal Control

Rep. Lowell Fess (R-Greene) offered a resolution in the house assailing federal grants. He urged Ohio congressmen and senators "to fetch our county courthouses and city halls back from Pennsylvania avenue."

Rep. Morton C. Anderson (D-Franklin) said he will demand Wednesday that the house labor committee be relieved of a bill to temper the Ferguson law banning strikes by public employees.

Anderson said the committee refused to conduct hearings on the proposal. It has held the measure since Feb. 18.

The bill by Reps. Anderson, George P. Grusenmeyer (D-Montgomery) and Ray White (D-Holmes) would allow common pleas courts to issue temporary injunctions against strikes by public employees. The governor then would appoint a fact-finding board. The court would make the injunction permanent if the board failed to bring settlement of the strike.

A house-passed bill to repeal the Ferguson act outright is pending in the state.

Couple Killed

CANTON, April 19 — Dr. Paul Staman, 41, and his wife, Rose, 38, of Uniontown, Pa., were killed when their car struck a truck near here yesterday, sheriff's deputies reported. Deputies said Dr. Staman apparently lost control of his car.

Dancer Successful, Despite Deafness

CLEVELAND, April 19 — (AP)—Lovely, blonde Frances Woods is a successful dancer even though she can't hear the music she dances to. Born without ear drums, she is the idol of many other deaf mutes who have heard how she learned to dance by "feeling" the music with her bare feet and hands.

Frances' mother enrolled her in a dance studio in Youngstown, O., to help her gain poise and grace. Her teacher, Billy Bray, taught her the steps after having her place her hands on the piano and feel the rhythm.

Later, with patient practice, Frances learned to pick up the beat of the various dances from the vibrations of the drums, which reheated her feet.

Frances now is appearing at a local supper club with her partner, teacher and husband, Billy Bray.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—How can a boss butter up the hired hands? This is one problem that never occurred to my simple barefoot mind.

But the other day I let go with a powerful piece about how the ordinary man, given a lifetime or two, could successfully butter up his boss and get a raise. Any boss.

And a fellow came right back at me—one of those strange people who hire other people for a living. "Listen, Boyle," he said, "You're living in a dead age. The problem in the industrial world today isn't how to butter up the boss to get ahead. What the boss has to worry about is how he can get ahead by buttering up his employees."

And the odd gentleman suggested if I were an honest reporter I would investigate immediately. He said I should advise the bosses what they could do to win the warm approval of the men under them who make them look good to the men over them.

WELL, FOR ME this was a brand new idea. As a lifelong employee determined to remain one, I had never thought of a boss as a person interested in pleasing me.

I first went to work at a time when people stood in lines for jobs.

And I guess that ever since then I have thought of a boss only as something you tried in a vague way to please . . . by an effort here . . . a performance there . . . As you would a cross child. You know—anything to keep him from being loud.

Certainly I never thought of him trying to do anything more than the small service of showering me with money. Bosses have done that so often I now discourage them from even performing that slight favor.

For I have found that money is only good to spend. Any spending money is habit-forming—like living, or puffing marijuana. Or watching television in the hope of something new.

So I have drawn the line at more money. I'll have none of it. And therefore I can't think of anything a boss can do for me except to stay out of my day dreams. I don't want him to blunder into my private world any more than I want to tip-toe into his. To me he is strictly on his own.

But some employees aren't the kind of workaday snob I am. I asked a few what they thought a boss could do to butter them up.

And here are their answers: "Borrow cigars from them once in a while, so as to make them wonder whether he can afford them a raise."

"WHEN THE EMPLOYEES greet him 'hiya, big boy,' the boss should come back with a heavily emphasized 'okay, chum.' This will leave them wondering whether he said 'chum' or 'chump.'"

"Have his wife stop into the office and bawl him out in public for forgetting to do something he promised. The employees will feel better for thinking he is as henpecked as they are."

"He could have his sons or daughters drop in for pin money—and give it to them out of the petty cash box. Every employee would like to dip into the cash box, too. And he does if he can."

"Take up personally all office collections for weddings, birthday roses and funeral wreaths. This will make the employees think he is a regular guy. And it doesn't have to cost him a cent because they won't know whether he contributed anything himself or not."

"Call all employees together once a year for a sandwich luncheon to hear their suggestions. Then they will forget their gripes for another year . . . And he can forget the suggestions."

Looking back over this list, I think there must be a better solution.

Perhaps the boss and the employees he wants to butter up should go together to a psychiatrist, hand in hand, and lie down together on a wide couch. There they could talk over the long question of how the Garden of Eden became a plantation.

But I don't think they will find a reason to change the basic arrangement.

Leetonia Homecoming Fete To Include Queen Selection

LEETONIA, April 19—Homecoming Queen contest rules were announced today by Jack Ripley, chairman.

Ripley was placed in charge of the Queen committee recently by Carl Varian, general chairman of the Homecoming, set for June 1 to 4.

The contest is open to any girl living in the Leetonia school district or any rural section which has an R. D. Leetonia, address.

Every girl must submit a recent photograph which is suitable to the committee. The name and address of the contestant must appear on the back of the picture, along with the name of the sponsor, if any. A list of measurements must also be given on the back of the photo. These include height, weight, chest, waist, hips, calf and ankle.

Judges are to be chosen from outside of the Leetonia district.

The final judging will be conducted publicly on the downtown band stand on Thursday, June 2.

The committee has made no specifications as to age or marital status of those competing for the honor and prizes. Definite rules on dress have not been announced.

Audrey Archer, 1948 Homecoming Queen, will present a large winged victory trophy to the 1949 winner. The trophy displays a shield on which the winner's initials are to be inscribed. Her name and "Leetonia Homecoming Queen of 1948" will be inscribed elsewhere on the trophy.

Leading the list of prizes for the winner will be a quarter-carat diamond ring to be presented by Tom Little, local jeweler.

Two Drivers Fined Following numerous complaints of "hot-rod" drivers in Leetonia, local police took two area youths into custody last week.

Fined in Judge Milton Cope's juvenile court Monday were John W. Gillis, Jr., 16, of East Palestine, and Edwin Exten, 18, R. D. 1, Leetonia.

Gillis was held for reckless operation of a vehicle. He was stopped on the Walnut st. hill. Both boys were apprehended Thursday evening. Exten was fined $15 and costs.

David C. Salmon, 20, of Georgetown rd., R. D. Salem, was arrested at 1:30 a. m. Sunday for disorderly conduct and was fined $25 and costs in Mayor Fred Galley's court, Sunday afternoon.

Leetonia chapter 253, O.E.S., will meet Monday evening at the Masonic temple. The annual inspection will take place at 8 p. m. Monday, April 25, with Deputy Grand Master Ruth Lautenheiser as the inspecting officer.

A dinner at 6:30 p. m. will precede the inspection ceremonies. Reservations must be made with the secretary, Mrs. Frieda Spathold, by April 20.

Northern university, Ada, spent the Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sweeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Windram of Columbus spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fenstermaker and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Windram, of south of town. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reese and daughters, Cheryl and Linda, of Columbus spent the Easter weekend with Mrs. Reese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Anglemeyer. Mrs. Anglemeyer returned to her home after spending the past week with her daughter.

Gas Fumes Fatal

TOLEDO, April 19—Gas escaping from a half-open stove burner killed Mrs. Berry Bybickie, 45, and sent her husband to a hospital yesterday. Coroner Paul Hohly said death was accidental. The couple were found in bed by a fire department rescue squad.

Cary Grant Gaining Weight For Filming

HOLLYWOOD, April 19—(UP)—Film Star Cary Grant began a "fattening up" diet today to gain 20 pounds and allow his studio to resume shooting a picture he's starring in.

Grant was stricken by jaundice while in England for the filming of "I Was a Male War Bride." He dropped the 20 pounds during the illness and the Twentieth Century Fox troupe returned here.

Until he can pick up his weight so he will match his appearance in footage already shot, work on the picture is stopped. The studio thinks it'll take only seven weeks for Grant to get back the 20 pounds.

In 1770, Massachusetts passed laws prohibiting theatrical entertainment of any description. Nine years later, it imposed a fine of 500 pounds for violation of the laws.

Full Season Opens Today In Majors; Phils, Senators Win

Surprise Victories For Two Outfits Come From Heintzelman And Vollmer

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The major league baseball season opens with a full schedule today following surprising early victories by the Philadelphia Phils and Washington Senators.

Thanks to Ken Heintzelman, a 33-year-old greybeard, and newcomer Clyde Vollmer, the Phils and Senators stole a lap on the field yesterday in the only two games played.

Heintzelman shut out the favored Boston Braves, 4-0, spoiling the 1948 National league champions' pennant-raising ceremonies. Vollmer came through with a ninth-inning single that beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-2.

Both games on the first of the double opening programs were played under poor weather conditions. As a result the crowds suffered. Only 9,195 paid to watch Billy Southworth's Braves host their 48 flag. Some 26,000 joined President Truman at Griffith stadium.

Chill, damp weather threatens to slice today's crowds. Cincinnati, sold out since Christmas as usual for its date with St. Louis Cardinals, won't be hurt. But the others may.

Brooklyn hopes to crack its home opening record of 31,648 with the New York Giants as an attraction. The weather man is not optimistic.

Chicago may turn out 30,000 to see if Rip Sewell, winner of nine opening games, can pitch Pittsburgh to victory over the Cubs. Sewell, better than ever at 40, is opposed by another "kid," 39-year-old Dutch Leonard.

The Phils and Braves, who beat the gun yesterday, may top their opening day mark in a Patriots' day doubleheader.

Detroit expects to draw 50,000 to see Hal Newhouse try to tame the feeble Chicago White Sox. The New York Yankees expect about 40,000 for their Yankee stadium opener against Washington.

The world champion Cleveland Indians are due to play in the comparative solitude of Sportsman's park against the St. Louis Browns with 15,000 or less in the stands. Connie Mack counts on 25,000 at Shibe park for the A's first home start against the powerful Boston Red Sox.

It's a sad opening day for Joe DiMaggio, Whitey Kurowski and Ewell Blackwell, the three "big ifs" of the spring training season.

DiMaggio, missing his eighth of 11 openers, will be on the bench in street clothes while the Yanks tangle with the Senators—league-leading Senators, if you please.

Kurowski stays home in St. Louis for an examination by Dr. Robert Hyland while the Cards face Cincinnati. Blackwell, who hasn't pitched an inning after a kidney operation, won't see action for some time.

The Athletics' Dick Fowler apparently had victory No. 1 all sewed up with a 2-1 lead going to the last of the ninth at Washington. Successive pinch doubles by Sherry Robertson and Ed Stewart tied the score. After Fowler loaded the bases, Vollmer came through with his game-winning single to left.

The hit by Vollmer made President Truman look good as a baseball expert for he had predicted a Washington win by a 5-4 score. The score was off but he had the winner. Last year he was right on the Yankees to beat the Senators.

Heintzelman did a remarkable job on the Braves, mowing down the champs with five hits. Johnny Sain was wild in the first walking two men with the bases loaded to give Eddie Sawyer's alert Phils all the runs they needed.

LOCKE'S GOLFING NOT WORSE, REST ARE JUST BETTER

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 18.—(AP)—What has happened to Bobby Locke's golf game?

Bobby Locke, the transplanted South African, seemed to choke on the sand which he was eating. Finally, he wheeled around and replied: "Nothing. Nothing has happened to Bobby Locke's golf game."

Locke kept munching on that sand which he'd tucked away in silence. Then, he spoke again: "It's true I don't seem to be getting the scores I got last year. Why, I won at Chicago, took second in the Tam O'Shanter, the Goodall, and at Washington. But I can't say that something's happened to my game just because I haven't been doing as well this season."

"One thing I can say, my putting maybe hasn't been as good. There's the changeover to this bigger ball, too. You know I played the small ball we use in South Africa for six months. I am finding it hard to get back to this large ball again."

Locke said most of his trouble was that "the rest of the boys are just playing better."

"Look what that Harrison did out there yesterday—shot a seven under par 62. It hasn't ever been done before—not on this course."

"That Harrison" is 39-year-old E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, whose 63 set a new competitive course record for the par 69 layout of the Cavalier Yacht and Country club.

Harrison's fancy round came in the 18-hole pro-amateur event of the $10,000 Cavalier Specialists golf tournament.

This tuneup for today's initial 18-holes of a 54-hole medal test saw 12 of 30 participating golf professionals shatter par. The final 36 holes will be Sunday.

Dendlocked for second place with 64's were Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif.; Dick Metz, the host pro, and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C. Ancient Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., fired a 66.

Locke carded a 1-over-par 70.

National Sanitary Team Workouts Carded at Park

The National Sanitary CIO softball team will hold practice sessions at Centennial park at 5:30 tonight and Thursday, it was announced today.

The team is interested in having anyone who would like to play report for these initial sessions.

The 73rd annual ICAA outdoor track championship is slated for Tylertown stadium, New York City, on May 27 and 28.

SPRINGFIELD OUT TO DEFEND TITLE AT MANSFIELD GO

Track Spectacle Due To Attract Record Entry List This Weekend

By FRITZ HOWELL
MANSFIELD, O., April 19.—(AP)—Springfield's Wildcats go after their second straight Mansfield relay crown this weekend.

The Clark county crew, state scholastic champions, won their own relays meet last Saturday through wind, snow and rain, in the opening track-field meet of the spring.

The Wildcats won only two of the 18 events last year in piling up 31.7 points to defeat Dayton Dunbar and Columbus Central which tied at 23.

About 60 schools and 1000 athletes took part in the 1948 event, but the 18th relays are expected to eclipse that figure and approach the record of 115 schools and 1500 contestants.

Invitations were mailed to 1500 high schools in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and Michigan. No out-of-state school has yet come, although Huntington, W. Va., finished a strong third in 1938 and 1939, and Strong Vincent of Erie and Mt. Lebanon, Pa., have finished fourth.

Harry Meheok, the "fellow in the corduroy coat" who founded the Mansfield relays in 1927 and has guided them since, said 22 team trophies and 230 individual prizes would be awarded this year.

Each of the 10 top teams gets a 4-inch trophy, as do the winners of the eight relay events, the coach of the winning team, and the school amassing the most points in either the track or field divisions.

The three first placers in relay or individual events will get belt buckles, and fourth and fifth placers will receive medals. The Tyler boxer club, which backs the relays, has tossed $1,500 into the prize fund.

Friday's lone event in the competition is the four-mile high school relay, with a party for the press and officials in the evening. Preliminaries in all events will be held Saturday morning, with the finals in the afternoon. About 5000 spectators are expected.

Entries close Thursday, and practically all the hot-shot schools are slated to be represented in what Meheok declares is "America's largest independent scholastic track and field classic."

Charles-Walcott Fight May Get Final OK Today

CHICAGO, April 19.—(AP)—Final arrangements for the NBA-recognized world championship heavyweight bout between Ezzard Charles and Joe Walcott will be made today when Joe Louis meets with associates at the International Boxing club.

To be discussed will be ticket prices for the bout June 22 at Comiskey park, television and radio rights and training camp sites.

Training camps will be set up as close as possible to Chicago. It is reported Louis will recommend Kenosha, Wis., for either Walcott or Charles. It is one of Joe's old training sites.

Coach Richard Lewis has an all-veteran tennis team at Cornell and the Ithaca racquet squad is favored to retain its title.

REDS OPEN 1949 SEASON WITH HOPE SLIM FOR PENNANT

By Harold Harrison
CINCINNATI, April 19.—(AP)—Cincinnati's Reds and St. Louis' Cardinals—two ball clubs with plenty of woes and worries—will open the 1949 National league baseball campaign here today before 34,000 fans.

Those 34,000 customers will fill Crosley field to capacity. That isn't unusual, of course, because a full house for the opening ball game in Cincinnati can be counted almost as much of a certainty as death and taxes.

The weather outlook was none too good. The forecast was for some sunshine but John H. Eberly, senior meteorologist, predicted a high of only 59 to 55 degrees.

Bucky Walters starting his first full season as manager at Cincinnati, named Ken Raffensberger to do the pitching for the Reds. There was a bit of optimism about the hunchplaying in the selection of Raffensberger. The necessity came from the fact he's the only hurler the Redleg staff have to go a full nine innings this spring and from the fact Johnny Vander Meer's pitching activities have been curtailed for the past 10 days because of a thigh injury.

The hunch that "Raffy" might get the Reds away on the right foot was due to the fact he hurled two one-hitters against the Cards last year.

Either Harry Brecheen or George Mauer were slated to be Manager Eddie Dyer's choice for pitching duty.

Probable starting lineups:
St. Louis Cardinals
Hatten, 3b
Schmidt, 2b
Wynne, cf
Masi, 1b
Sauer, lf
Bloodworth, 2b
Jones, rf
Norton, 1b
Garagiola, c

Munger, p

Two Indians in today's starting lineup—Feller and Left Fielder Dale Mitchell—complained of pains on the eve of the game.

Mitchell wrenched his knee running out a triple in a game against the New York Giants Sunday but expected to play. Feller, riding the Tribe train to St. Louis yesterday, reported his right shoulder still was troubling him.

The Indians' ace worked out in the bull pen Sunday. Asked how it went, he replied:

"Not so good. I was fast enough, but I'd feel a sharp pain every time I'd let loose. That's why I'm hoping for a warm day. If it gets good and hot I think I can work the soreness out."

"Are you sure it's a muscular soreness?"
Feller: "Oh, yeah. I can feel it when I bend my arm. It's in the muscles all right. I'm not worried about it. I know as soon as the weather gets warm it'll be all right. You know, we haven't had any warm weather since our first few weeks in Tucson."

"What happens if the weather stays cold and you can't work the soreness out for a month or so?"
Feller: "Well, if it's still sore for the next couple of weeks, I might have to take some time off. Maybe if I don't pitch for a week it will clear up. I am not worried, though. I'll be all right."

EXPECT 15,000 TO SEE INDIANS OPEN WITH BROWNS

Garver Named To Oppose Rapid Robert As Tribe Opens Title Defense

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—(AP)—The world champion Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns, who hope to improve their 1948 sixth place finish, clash today in the season opener at Sportsman's park.

Approximately 15,000 spectators were expected to watch the two American league baseball clubs play.

Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau nominated Rapid Robert Feller, long a Brown's nemesis, to do the twirling for the Indians. His record against St. Louis since he joined the Tribe in 1936 is 25 victories and 8 losses.

Young Ned Garver, a righthander from New York, will oppose Feller. Garver won 7 and lost 11 last year, but has looked good on the grapefruit circuit.

Probable starting lineups:

Managers Comment On Team Chances In 1949 Flag Chase

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—Managers of the 16 major league teams agreed today with the consensus that the American league shapes up as a two-team race between Boston and Cleveland while the National is a wide open battle.

Comments range from Brooklyn's Burt Shotton who says flatly, "I am picking the Dodgers to win the pennant," to Cincinnati's Bucky Walters who says, "some forecasters who put us on the bottom may find they are wrong."

The comment from individual managers:

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Billy Southworth, Boston Braves—"I think the Braves are much stronger than our 1948 pennant winners, but the league also is much stronger for every other club has improved."

Billy Meyer, Pittsburgh Pirates—"We aim to finish in the first division. I'd say the top six teams probably will be, including Pittsburgh, New York, Boston, Brooklyn, St. Louis and Philadelphia."

Charles Grimm, Chicago Cubs—"It looks like a wide open National league race all the way with the Dodgers, Braves and Cardinals in the thick of it. Pittsburgh also must be given consideration. The Cubs definitely will be stronger."

Eddie Sawyer, Philadelphia Phils—"This looks like a typical National league race with six clubs figuring. If we get the breaks, don't be surprised to see the Phils battling for a first division berth."

Eddie Dyer, St. Louis Cardinals—"We're stronger in reserves, both infield and outfield, and I believe our catching is improved. I'd say our pennant chances are as good as they were a year ago at this time."

Burt Shotton, Brooklyn Dodgers—"I am picking the Dodgers to win the pennant. I think we have not only the best team in the National league but the best conditioned team."

Leo Durocher, New York Giants—"We're liable to feel a lot of experts."

WESLEYAN RELAYS
FIGURE LARGE AS TOP TEAMS READY

DELAWARE, April 19.—(UP)—The cream of Ohio's crop of high school track and field athletes prepared today for the 18th renewal of the famed Ohio Wesleyan High school relays here April 30.

The relays, one of the state's top scholastic track classics, are sponsored by the Ohio High School Athletic association and managed by George E. Gauthier, Wesleyan athletic director and track coach.

The card calls for 11 events in each division, plus an added feature—the open 100-yard dash. The state's Class A and B cinder artists will compete with four-man teams in the 440, 880, medley, shuttle hurdles, and one and two-mile relays. Field events, including the shot put, discus, pole vault, high jump and broad jump, are for three-man teams.

Springfield, in Class A, and Salem Oak Harbor, in Class B, share the favorites' roles on the strength of their team victories in 1947 and 1948. Cleveland East Tech, perennial track powerhouse and 1948 runner-up, and Cleveland Central and Columbus Central, who tied for third last year, also are threats.

Chief competition in the B division is expected from Lakeside, second in 1948. Columbus university and Reynoldsburg.

Three team trophies will be awarded to the top three finishers in each division as well as to the team winners in each event. Ribbon awards will be made to team individuals of the winning schools.

BOWLING
One of the top three game sets of the season was bowled Monday night in the Quaker City league by Art Kane. The veteran kneller had his hook ball working perfectly and pulverized the maples for a 530 series as his V. F. W. team upset the leading Columbians Electric five three games.

Kane's games were 327, 248 and 197. He had one open frame in each game—a split and two misses. The 530 series was equalled earlier this season by "Lucky Lou" DeCrown of Salem.

The Columbians Electric team, incidentally, needs only one victory in three after next Monday to clinch the league title. They lead the Albion by a three game margin with three left to bowl.
